COMMUNITY JUMPS THE GUN ON POOL CLOSURE

The Twin Towns Board of Directors are yet to determine the future of Oasis Pools Complex, despite a raft of negative publicity and criticism currently circulating across the Tweed.

The only decision that has been made to date is that the pool will close on 30 April for the winter period and to allow the Club to assess the aging and failing plant and equipment.

NEW MASTERPLAN FOR CLUB BANORA PRECINCT

Taking a step back, in 2009 the Club completed the last masterplan for Club Banora. That plan evolved out of the identified need for the Club to be sustainable in the long term.

This means being less reliant on our current income streams through diversity, making sure the scale of the Club facilities matched current demand and that the proposed services matched what the research said people would support and wanted as features of the Club.

In 2021, the Tweed Shire Council was successful in the Land and Environment Court in having our plans for a retail development and alterations to the Club's facilities refused.

The court's decision has given the Club a much greater insight into what is required to get the plans approved, and the need remains as relevant today as it did 13 years ago when the journey started. The plans, however, do need to be updated.

In December Club News, Board Chairman Brian Brown advised members in his monthly report that the Board decided to create an entirely new masterplan for Club Banora. The new plan would include a reconfiguration of the Club's facilities, specifically tailored to the needs of the Banora Point community, especially local families, moving into the future.

In December, the Board engaged consultants and urban design specialists to prepare the new Club Banora masterplan.

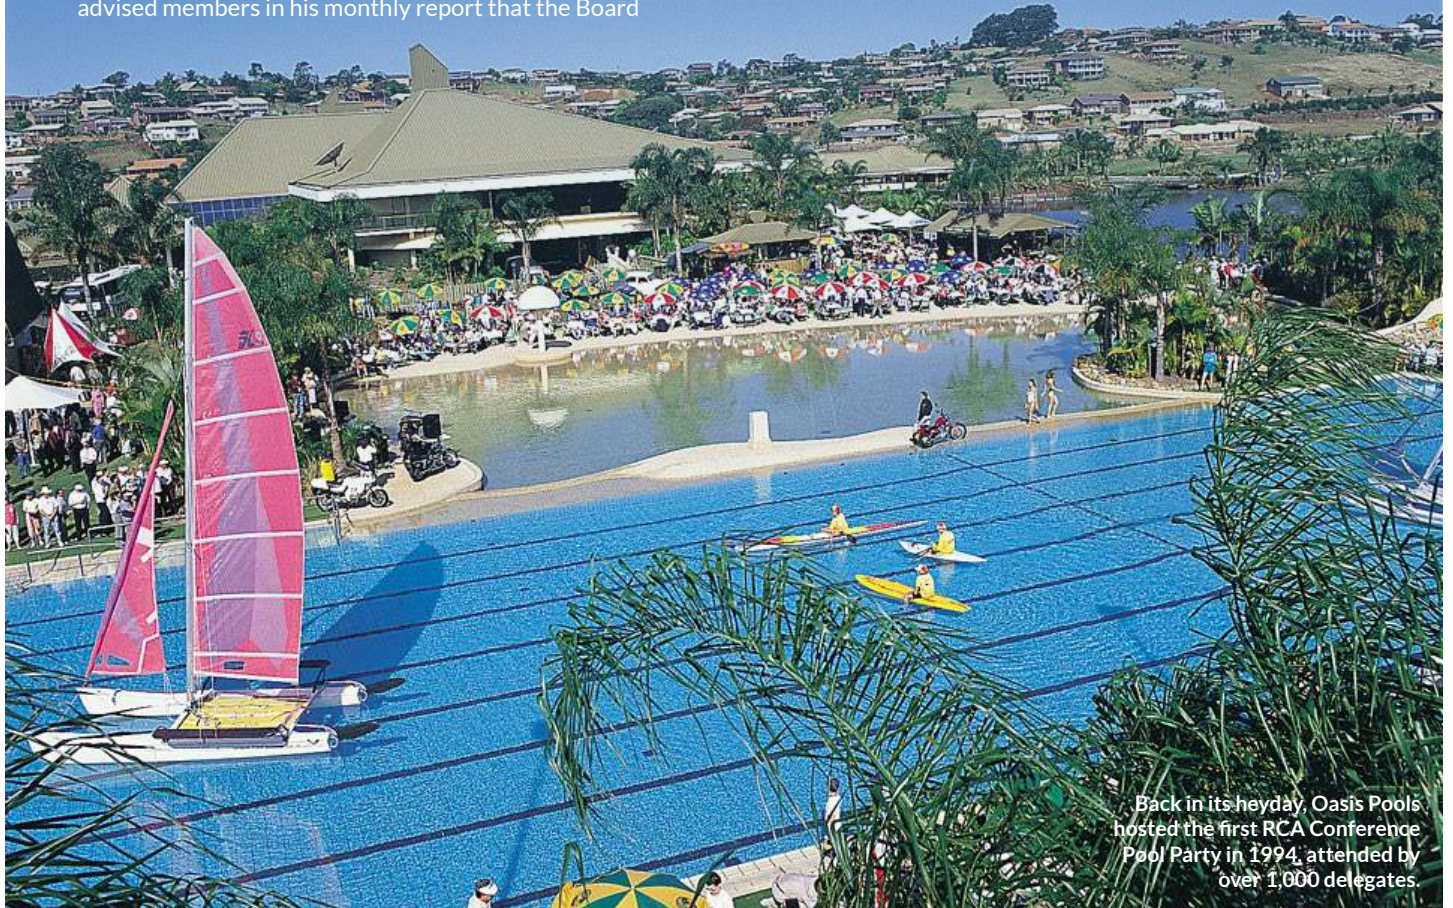

The aim was to ensure the new masterplan would service the social and recreational needs of Banora Point residents for the next 10 to 20 years. It would be what the majority of people wanted and expected from their local Club.

Part of the research was to identify reasons people choose not to visit the Club, and what services and facilities would attract them to the Club, e.g. dining, entertainment and atmosphere.

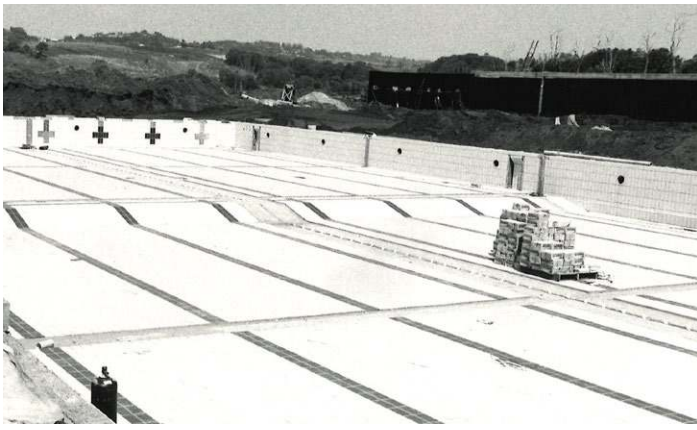

The researchers talked with members and non-members in focus groups, analysed the local demography and the actual performance of each of the Club's areas using all the statistics which we gather in the daily running of the Clubs.

In the recent weeks they held workshops and finished with an online survey of members in the 2485 and 2486 postcodes only.

The consultants first report will be provided to the Board in March, following which we will commence the deliberation phase.

Back in its heyday, Oasis Pools hosted the first RCA Conference Pool Party in 1994, attended by over 1,000 delegates.

Oasis Pools construction, circa 1986.

Oasis Pools welcomed its first members and visitors 35 years ago.

OASIS POOLS

When the pool was first imagined and constructed in the mid '80s, some may remember it had a grandstand on the western side, a bar and licensed beer garden and served food from the BBQ Hut on the eastern side. There was also regular weekend entertainment on the stage.

Those features were clearly before their time, or Banora and the pool did not then have sufficient population to make the complex viable, beyond swimming. If this is still the case in 2022 is something we are considering.

As the pools are now 35 years old, major pieces of plant and equipment have started to fail so the Club has made the decision to reimagine the Oasis Pools. This will be done as part of the new Club Banora-wide masterplan, where all other facilities, actual demand and modern expectations will also be factored into the outcomes.

It's well established that most pools are owned and operated by local government and funded by rates, which the Oasis Pools are not. Part of what the Club is doing is also looking at the model to make it more sustainable and if government, or others, have a part to play in that.

The Club has already applied for some one-off Federal funding for the immediate repairs, and we think Government does have a role to play in that space regardless of the ownership.

The long-term vision must precede or at the very least, run alongside, detailed planning on matters like engineering and operational modelling.

While many in the community appear to have pre-determined the future for Oasis Pools, the Club has not. Once the initial planning has been completed, we'll be happy to share the next steps with all the members and the broader community.

Who remembers the Oasis Pools grandstand and slides from the early days?

One briefcase will hold the major prize - a massive $50,000 stash of cash! Another lucky member will win $20,000, one $10,000, two $5,000, three will win $2,000 and four win $1,000.

If you would like to be one of them, members can earn one ticket per day in the weekly Best Case Scenario draw with their first bar purchase. Tickets must go in the barrel from the Club where the purchase was made or there will be a redraw.

After DST ends, draws from 9 April will be at 6pm at all three Clubs, with the barrel closing at 5.30pm. The barrel will be cleared following each draw so it will be time to start again for the next week.

It pays to come along to the weekly draw. If the winner is present at their nominated Club, they have four minutes to let staff know. As well as an entry into the final draw, they'll also win a $1,000 EFTPOS card. Members who aren't at the draw will be contacted by the Promotions Department.

Start planning what you'd spend it on if you win. Will it be a dream holiday, new car or boat, the latest appliances or furniture, maybe a campervan or a pool? The best thing is you'll get to decide your own best case scenario, thanks to Twin Towns.

Counting for Life thanks to Twin Towns

A TWIN TOWNS CLUBGRANTS DONATION OF $8,895 HAS ENABLED TWEED HEADS PUBLIC SCHOOL TO INTRODUCE A NEW INITIATIVE CALLED THE 'COUNTING FOR LIFE AT HOME', DESIGNED TO SUPPORT CHILDREN WITH THEIR NUMERACY.

Learning Links, who created the community education program for children with learning difficulties, said the At-Home Program will empower families with the skills, services and professional support they need to help their children to realise their potential.

The parents will learn about the program via Zoom sessions conducted by specialist childhood education professionals and will each receive a pack of activities and materials to assist with their child's development of numeracy skills. They will also have access to phone calls with a Learning Links Psychologist.

Deputy Board Chairman and Chair of the Tweed Clubs Grants Committee, David Phillips, said he and the Board were delighted to have the opportunity to assist the local Tweed Heads Public School with the introduction of this new and revolutionary program.

"Covid restrictions, lockdowns and school closures have affected many local families and the impacts on school children is immeasurable.

"Many have fallen behind in their schoolwork due to the time they've spent away from the classroom, and we saw this program as a way to help some of our local kids catch up.

"Twin Towns always helps our local community organisations where we can and we have always upheld a strong focus on organisations for children and early learning when determining our annual donations.

"We hope this new program provides the children with the tools they need to move forward with confidence when they take their place in the classroom," said David.

BLOKES, BOOKS AND BEERS

Twin Towns Staff & Customer Care Ambassador Marty Thompson said the new Bloses, Books and Beers Club at Twin Towns is designed for men seeking connection with other locals and the support that comes with a social chat amongst friends.

The group, led by Marty, will discuss a particular book each month. Marty will come up with a new book with broad appeal for the following month's read.

If you don't like a particular book, that's okay. Marty doesn't expect everyone to like every book he suggests. But come along anyway, have your say about what you thought of it.

"If you haven't read the book each month, no stress, there's no pressure, come along anyway.

"The beer will still be cold and the conversation, we hope, will be lively. You'll soon get into the swing of it.

"There are no set rules, no age requirements, it's all about a relaxing time spent," said Marty.

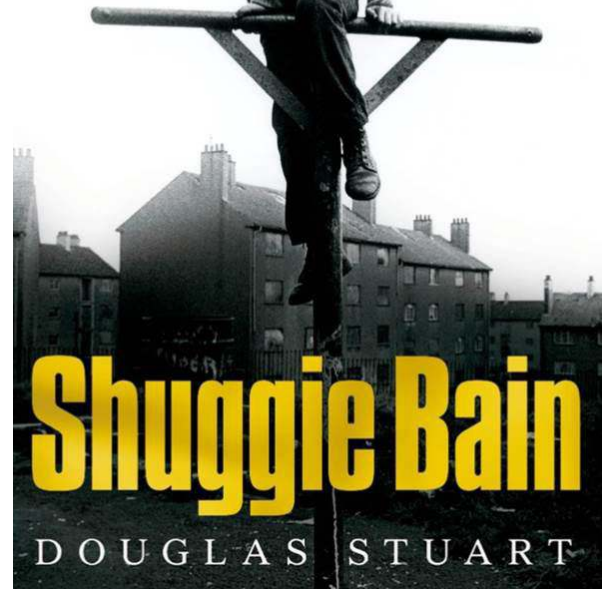

Participants can purchase a beer from the bar and settle in to enjoy the conversation with the group. If you don't like beer that's okay, get yourself a glass of wine or soft drink if you like.

The first book for March is the 2020 Booker Prize winner, Shuggie Bain, by Douglas Stuart. Marty says it's an unforgettable story of a sweet but lonely boy who spends his 1980s childhood in run-down public housing in Glasgow, Scotland. Marty said it's a great read and is sure it will be a popular choice.

The Bloses Books & Beer Club is open to all male members and locals. It will take place on the fourth Wednesday of the month from 7pm to 8.30pm Qld at 1st on Wharf Tavern.

Craig Tuffin, The Supers No. 2 (detail) 2020, Dye Sublimation Print on Chromaluxe, courtesy of the artist.

SUPERS ON THE SCREEN AT TWIN TOWNS

Highly regarded local photographer Craig Tuffin is currently exhibiting a new series of works titled The Supers at the Tweed Regional Gallery & Margaret Olley Art Centre.

Each of Craig's photographs tells a short story, which becomes a chapter in a larger novel that examines human potential. The exhibition seeks to depict those often unremembered faces of humanity as heroic versions of themselves.

One of the images included in the exhibition, pictured above, is a photograph Craig took of his then-pregnant wife during the first month of the COVID-19 outbreak.

"The characteristic levels of expectation and anxiety that come with childbirth immediately transformed into fear," said Tuffin.

"We were trapped within our home with our unborn child at far greater risk than we could ever have anticipated.

"While I considered the possibility that I wouldn't be allowed to be present at our daughter's birth, my wife took it all in her stride."

Gallery Director Susi Muddiman OAM praised the works of Tuffin.

"Craig a great technical photographer, his works are also incredibly powerful."

"The pandemic has taught us that it's the everyday people who are the actual heroes, and this exhibition celebrates that."

Craig is an artist and educator from Kingscliff. He has won numerous awards and has exhibited nationally and internationally.

You can see a selection of Craig's images from the exhibition on the big screen on the exterior of Twin Towns every evening until 22 March, on the hour every hour, from 7.10pm to 11.10pm Qld.

The full Craig Tuffin: The Supers exhibition is on display at the Tweed Regional Gallery & Margaret Olley Art Centre until 1 May 2022. Entry is free. Head to their website for details.

Creedence's art stopping moment

Driving home from soccer training with eldest son Maika, proud dad Trevor (Big Trev) Butler said they couldn't believe their eyes when they rounded the bend into Wharf Street.

There, larger than life on the side of Twin Towns, was a drawing by his son Creedence called 'Dripping Love', which won the Peter Meadows Encouragement Award' (11-13 years) in the Les Peterkin Art Prize last year. Maika yelled, "Creedence's picture, stop the car," said the Trevor.

"We were gobsmacked to see his drawing plastered across the massive screen."

After taking a quick photo, they raced home to tell Creedence and his Mum, Breea. They called and woke the boys' grandparents at 9.30pm, got them out of bed, and they all piled into the car and headed to Twin Towns.

Trev said it was a moment mixed with emotion. Happy tears, laughter, bewilderment, and a 11-year-old that was so proud it was beaming from his little face.

Creedence said he was so surprised to see it up there and felt so proud of himself.

"I was shocked since it was probably up there for a while and we didn't know. The whole family were so happy so that was the real reward.

"To me, it means that working really hard pays off and my cheekbones were really sore from smiling," said Creedence.

Creedence wanted to send a big thank you to Lindisfarne and teachers, Miss Hawkins and Miss Howarth, for supporting him and entering his artwork into the competition.

BACK TO THE TIVOLI CELEBRATES 250 SHOWS AT TWIN TOWNS

The cast of Twin Towns' favourite daytime variety show, Back to the Tivoli, have plenty to celebrate when they present their 250th concert performance in the Showroom on Tuesday 12 April.

Back to the Tivoli producers Jenifer Green and Wayne Cornell said the successful format of the show is based on the famous variety and vaudeville shows that drew huge crowds to Sydney's Tivoli Theatre in the 1920s and '30s.

"There are so many regulars, some aged in their 90s, who never miss a show at Twin Towns. I haven't missed one either," laughed the show's host, musician, singer and former member of The Delltones.

"The performers enjoy it just as much as the audience, and it shows. It's a feelgood experience, never a dull moment, and everyone is guaranteed to leave with a smile on their face."

Back to the Tivoli first hit the Twin Towns stage in 1996 and has since returned regularly to showcase a selection of acts, alongside a band and dance troupe.

Wayne will host the upcoming April show, which also features popular vocalist Robert Jeffreys, comedian Al Showman, international mask and mime magician Richard Scholes and award-winning pianist Shelly White.

If you have never been to a Back to the Tivoli show at Twin Towns, you're missing out! Here is the chance to discover why it's Twin Towns' longest running, most popular daytime show in the Club's history.

NRL SEASON COMMENCES 10 MARCH
AFL SEASON COMMENCES 16 MARCH

Footy season is here again and so is the opportunity to catch up at your favourite Club to watch the matches on the big screen.

It's also a great excuse to catch up with your mates over a few cold beers and cheer on the teams you've picked in the Footy Comp.

This year, there will be one combined tipping competition at 1st on Wharf Tavern, Club Banora and Juniors, with separate competitions for NRL and AFL fans.

The winner will receive $300 in Members Advantage Points. Second will win $150 in points and third $50 in points. Prizes will be shared in the event of a draw.

There'll be $20 in points for the outright top tipper of the week. If there isn't a single winner, it jacks up to the next week. There will also be $200 in points for the winner of the Knockout Competition which commences in round 2.

Entry is free so register now for your chance to win. You can place your tips at any of the three Clubs.

If you registered for the tipping comp last year, just swipe your card and tip. If it's the first time you've entered, you must be a member. Just register at the terminal and swipe to activate your card.

Every tipper is also automatically entered in the national Sportspick competition, with $60,000 to be won.

Don't forget to get your tips in each week or that brilliant score may take a nosedive.

Competition ends at the end of last round of the season, excluding the finals.

Former training partners and friends who've since become bitter rivals, Covington and Masvidal, are set to clash in UFC 272 on Sunday 6 March from 1pm Qld.

The rivalry emerged as both set out to challenge for the welterweight title within the same promotion.

Covington had accepted a challenge from Masvidal on social media and wanted to make the fight happen regardless of the circumstances as a way to settle their differences.

"I just want to get locked in a cage with this clown. I want to be locked in a cage with Jorge 'Street Judas' Masvidal more than I want anything in the world," Covington reportedly told Submission Radio, MMA's biggest show.

You guessed it. The usual trash-talking for this grudge match is in full swing, with Masvidal recently claiming that former US President Trump will be cheering him on against Covington.

Covington v Masvidal is regarded as one of the most volatile rivalries in combat sports today. Will be interesting to see who leaves the ring smiling.

Definitely one to watch live from Vegas as it unfolds on the MEGAscreen at 1st on Wharf Tavern.
