At the AGM on 21 May, three Board Directors positions will be vacated in accordance with the Triennial Rule adopted in the Constitution of the Club.

The three Directors vacating their positions, Brian Brown, John Keating and Ragina Rogers, have once again nominated to resume their roles on the Board. These were the only nominations received.

We thought this was a great opportunity for members to learn a little more about each of them as they commence new three-year terms. In upcoming editions of Club News, we'll introduce some of the other Directors.

CHAIR, BRIAN BROWN

Twin Towns Chair Brian Brown was born and raised in the western suburbs of Sydney.

During his childhood, his parents owned small businesses, including a corner store. Serving behind the counter became his early introduction to the important art of customer service.

After leaving high school, Brian's first job was a roof tiler and after completing his trade certificate, opened his own business.

Timing wasn't great! A recession in the building industry forced him to rely on government support. Whilst he admits it was a tough time, it inspired him to decide what he really wanted to do with his life.

At 24 years of age, he joined the NSW Fire Brigade where he spent the next 30 years.

Along the way, Brian met and married wife Marilyn and became a happily blended family with five children between them.

He accepted a managerial role with the Fire Brigade in Tamworth, overseeing the education and training of 300 firefighters across New South Wales.

When he retired in 2002, he and Marilyn moved to Banora Point and planned to take up a "quiet life".

After spending eight years on the Board of a Sydney golf club, Brian was convinced he was never going down that path again.

"Didn't last long," he laughs.

"I joined Club Banora golf club, was on the Committee for two years, then President for three years.

"I was asked to join the Board and whilst initially I said no, changed my mind and was elected in 2008."

After 12 years as Director, Brian was elected Chair, where he said one of the most important responsibilities is governance.

"Directors must be fully conversant in legislative requirements under the Acts - Corporations Act, Registered Clubs Act - we all have responsibilities to adhere to.

"Whether you're Chair or a Director, it's not like you just turn up and do what you want to do.

"You're always bound by some regulation or another, it's an important part of the job."

Brian said he is also the conduit between the Board and CEO, Rob Smith.

"I'm in regular day-to-day with Rob, as well as Executive Management and staff in various roles throughout the Clubs.

"As a Board Director, though, you don't get involved in management. That's not your job.

"Directors do strategic direction - management manages," said Brian.

Although life as Chair of one of New South Wales' largest and most progressive Clubs is a busy one, Brian admitted his kids and multitude of grandkids also keep him on his toes.

"Work aside, this is really what life is all about. Family!"

JOHN KEATING

At 37 years of age, solicitor and Board Director John Keating brings youth and legal knowledge to the boardroom table at Twin Towns.

A local, through and through, John attended St Joseph's Primary School and St Joseph's College, then Southern Cross University where he graduated with a Bachelor of Legal & Justice Studies and Bachelor of Laws.

He played junior and senior rugby league at South Tweed, where both of his sons now play. John also manages one of the junior teams.

Since becoming a Director in 2021, John said he has gained firsthand knowledge of how invested Twin Towns is in its local community.

"Unfortunately, this doesn't cut through as much as it should.

"To put that into perspective, Twin Towns provided over a million dollars in community support in the last financial year to various local groups including charities, support services and sporting clubs.

"Without this financial support, many of these groups wouldn't exist, let alone offer such exceptional services," said John.

Behind the scenes, John sees on a daily basis how much is being done that members may not see, hear or read about.

Although the Board is often criticised for making tough decisions sometimes, John said they're always made to ensure the continued survival of the Club.

"As Directors, we are the custodians of Twin Towns, a responsibility none of us take lightly.

"Twin Towns belongs to its members and we need to ensure its prosperity, long into the future, notwithstanding sometimes, members might feel aggrieved by a call we've made."

John summed up the Board's position with one of his favourite quotes from Paul Ryan:

"If we don't make tough decisions today, our children are going to have to make much, much tougher decisions tomorrow."

Along with his parents, proud members Catherine and Tony Keating, Juniors has been their local since before it was purchased by Twin Towns in 2002.

"Not a week goes by when you won't see Mum and Dad at Juniors and on Friday night you'll find Dad selling raffle tickets to raise money for local junior sports clubs.

"I'll keep my fingers crossed he sells you a winning ticket," said John.

John has a message to share with members:

"Be proud of the Club. Take a moment and look at what it is: the biggest, private individual employer in the Tweed region, supporting thousands, when considering our employees, their families, local supplier businesses and their families.

"Remember too the financial support Twin Towns provides to local charities, support service providers, junior sports and the many other organisations that rely heavily on their local Club."

HOW TO BUILD A CLUB IN TWO MINUTES

May marks six months since the opening of Twin Towns Juniors clubhouse in November last year. How time has flown!

Juniors has surpassed all expectations in terms of visitation and it appears locals have embraced their new Club in much greater numbers than previous records show.

When Juniors closed in April 2023 for the rebuild, many doubted the new clubhouse would be up and running by the predicted opening date in eight months' time. But it was.

Thanks to a dream run of weather, a massive job by an army of local tradies and with Tweed construction company TLF Developments steering the ship, all went to plan.

Juniors officially opened on 23 November.

Click here to look back at how it all unfolded – the entire rebuild in just two minutes.

RAGINA ROGERS

Ragina Rogers is a proud freshwater Wiradjuri woman. She is also a member of the Twin Towns Board of Directors.

Ragina and her people are originally from Narromine, Western New South Wales. When she was 13 years old, her mum Linda West married a traditional owner from Fingal.

Leaving behind a concrete backyard in Newtown Sydney, they moved to the Tweed Coast where Ragina warmly embraced the golden sands of her new backyard - Fingal beach - and her new front yard, the beautiful Tweed River.

The sport-loving teen attended Tweed River High, then Kingscliff High the year it opened.

In her early 20s, Ragina started work at Twinnies, mainly at the Tweed Heads Hotel where she formed many long-lasting friendships with staff.

"It was a really fun place to work, back in the old, pre-RSA, paper sign-in days.

"I could pour a decent schooner and keep the banter going with the locals, especially during footy season."

In 2000, Ragina hit a crossroad that changed the trajectory of her career.

After witnessing a critical incident, she was confronted by her inability to perform adequate support because her first aid knowledge was basic.

Soon after, she applied and was accepted into the Queensland Ambulance Service (Paramedical Science) as an Advanced Care Paramedic.

Ragina remained in this role for 14 years, during which time she had the opportunity to expand her skills outside the clinical lens.

"I enjoyed learning the complexities of policies and procedures, workplace health and safety, legislation and governance, which led me to complete my studies in Australian Rural Leadership and then a Masters in Governance & Leadership."

Ragina believes each member of the Board brings unique and varied skills that drive governance and steer the Club's corporate direction.

"We may come from diverse backgrounds but in the Boardroom, we're all equals.

"I am acknowledged by the beautiful saltwater Bunjalung Aboriginal people and respect that we are on their lands, waters, valleys and mountains. I know my community; I know and respect my members."

Ragina said that along with Director Sharon Styman, they bring a 'female voice' to the table, ensuring equity and equality are intrinsic.

"I've learnt more sitting at the Boardroom table from the Directors than I have from any book or academic lecture," Ragina said.

Ragina is currently the Regional Operations Manager for Aboriginal Home Health at Australian Unity SEQ/NNSW/Central & Hunter.

2024 CLUBS & COMMUNITY AWARDS FINALIST

NSW Clubs have demonstrated their pivotal role in communities across the state, submitting a record number of stories of kindness and generosity in the Clubs & Community Awards.

Twin Towns is a finalist in the Social Inclusion category for the free parties hosted annually by the Twin Towns Services Community Foundation for kids with additional needs.

The children are treated to an array of their favourite party food, along with a specially curated program of entertainment including magicians, jugglers, face painters, jumping castle, photo booth and more.

Winners of the Awards will be announced at a gala ClubsNSW event in Sydney in June.

Twin Towns has hosted the annual Kids Parties in the Showroom since 2005.

Signatures buffet breakfast was a perfect start to the day for Clontarf Academy students.

Clontarf Foundation's 'Top Trainers' Breakfast

Last month, 13 students from Tweed River Clontarf Academy were treated to a 'Top Trainers' breakfast at Signatures at the Resort before heading off to school.

They earned the privilege by attending eight or more training sessions during the school term. Some students attended up to 13 times, a massive effort from the year 7 to 9 students, considering training starts at 5.45am!

The Academy aims to improve the education, self-esteem, life skills and employment prospects of young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander men.

Director of the Tweed River Academy Cameron Campbell said he is incredibly proud of the boys' commitment this term, particularly their attendance at training.

"Not only does it create great habits and routine for the boys but it encourages them to start their day with some physical activity, fun with their mates and a healthy breakfast before heading off to class," said Cameron.

Last year, Twin Towns Services Community Foundation donated $20,000 to fund the enrolment of an additional 10 boys at the Tweed River Academy.

The breakfast was an opportunity for the students and trainers to meet Twin Towns Board Directors and personally thank the Club for its support.

Board Chair Brian Brown said it was great to meet the boys and see first-hand the amazing job the Academy is doing.

"They were so respectful, polite, appreciative and enjoyed a chat with the Directors.

"We look forward to hearing about their progress and hope to see them back for breakfast sometime soon."

THE PERFECT PLATE AT TWIN TOWNS

NSW CLUB INDUSTRY'S PREMIER COOKING COMPETITION IS ON AGAIN AND TWIN TOWNS HAS SUBMITTED TWO INDULGENT DISHES IN THE 2024 PERFECT PLATE AWARDS.

The Awards are designed to showcase the incredible quality and diversity of food on offer at local Clubs and highlight the talented chefs working in the industry.

In the mains category, Twin Towns Executive Chef David Organ's stunning dish is his latest culinary creation, Seared Scallops with twice-cooked Pork Belly.

The beautifully presented scallops are paired with tender Byron Bay pork belly, cooked low and slow in the Club's inhouse smoker to enhance the flavours.

The dish is served on a bed of creamy cauliflower puree with shimeji mushrooms from the Northern Rivers region. Shimeji are highly regarded for their nutty, umami flavour and slightly sweet and buttery notes.

David's second dish is a dessert: Spiced Poached Pear in a spiced red wine sugar syrup. This dish is served with traditional Italian panna cotta.

Twin Towns diners can score great prizes in the Awards by visiting Harbour Fresh and trying the dishes before Saturday 15 June 2024. Both dishes will also be available for Mother's Day lunch.

Each dish has a unique QR code which you scan, then submit your score.

There are $100 dining vouchers to be won each day, plus two Foodie Escape Experiences valued at $3,500 for the two people who dine and vote at the most Club restaurants.

There will be three overall statewide winning Clubs, based on their membership size.

Get behind Twin Towns' chefs and let your tastebuds decide the score.

Community unites to honour ANZAC Day 2024

Thousands gathered at Tweed Heads to commemorate ANZAC Day 2024, to acknowledge, remember and honour those who served their Country and pay respects to those who never returned home.

A breathtaking sunrise framed the solemnity of the Dawn Service and blue skies were a perfect backdrop for the March and Main Service.

RSL Sub-Branch President Dr John Griffin said this year's ANZAC Day was a successful collaboration between Tweed Heads & Coolangatta RSL Sub-Branch and Twin Towns.

"We had a small group of volunteers from the Sub-Branch who managed the planning and operations for the Dawn and Main Services.

"They also managed the logistics of the event, which involved around 500 Veterans, families of Vets, servicemen and women, members of the Defence Force, and musicians and band who participated in the March and Services.

"Add to this around 900 children from 17 local schools who also took part on the day.

"It was a mammoth task and I congratulate our team for their efforts," said the Sub-Branch President.

This year, Twin Towns arranged the Gunfire Breakfast followed by an Andrew's Sisters Tribute concert in the Showroom.

For the first time, a live stream of the Dawn Service, March and Main Service was screened in the Showroom and on the Twin Towns website. A free lunch with children's entertainment was held in the Showroom for students who participated, their teachers and families.

The ANZAC Day luncheon after the Main Service saw the popular return of Two-Up and on Level 1, free live music and dancing continued throughout the afternoon and into the evening.

A MEMORY FOR MADDISON

Maddison Mortensen travelled from Forest Lake in Brisbane to join the Tweed Heads & Coolangatta RSL Sub-Branch ANZAC Day March.

Maddison, who is now 25, has participated in the Tweed Heads March alongside her Pa, Maxwell Pearce, "rain, hail or shine" since she was four years old.

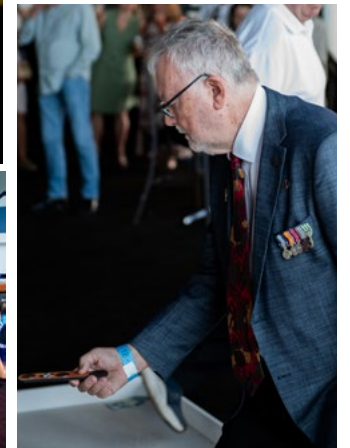

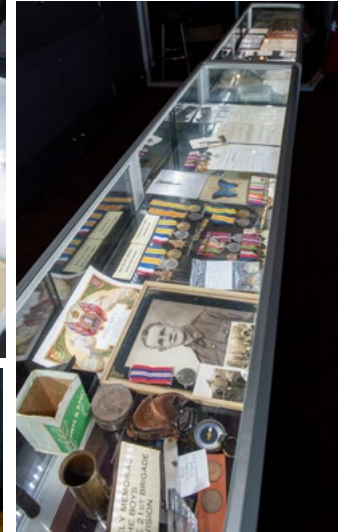

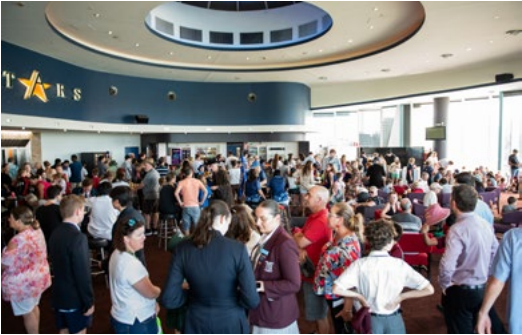

Sadly, Maddison's Pa recently passed away. Although she said it was difficult not having him there to see them march, she wanted to continue the legacy and tradition.

This year, she decided her children Phelix, 4 and Skyla, 2, were old enough to join her.

Maddison never got a photo of their first march together but thought Twin Towns had a photographer there and contacted the Club.

She was right! We did have a photo of Maddison, Phelix and Skyla and were thrilled to pass it on. Here they are, proudly wearing Pa's medals.

Former world lightweight champion George Kambosos Jr (21-2, 10 KOs) knows the enormity of the task at hand when he steps into the ring on 12 May to face decorated veteran Vasilii Lomachenko (17-3, 11 KOs).

Despite his respect for the Ukrainian, Kambosos is confident this fight will return him to the upper echelons of the division.

Some critics claim Lomachenko is declining at 36 and will have his work cut out against 30-year-old Sydney-born professional boxer, Kambosos.

But don't underestimate Lomachenko. The two-time Olympic gold medallist, who won his first world championship in just his third professional fight, knows his way around the ring.

Many expect a comfortable win for the boxer known as 'Loma'.

If you're wondering about the sea of tattoos on 'Ferocious' Kambosos, the famous Spartan war cry 'Never retreat, never surrender' pays homage to his Greek heritage.

George says, "When I fight I take both flags with me, the Australian flag and the Greek flag.

"When you got that Spartan warrior blood in you, and then obviously you're born in Australia you got that ANZAC fighting (spirit), you take every step you can to win - can't be beat.

"That's why I never been beat yet," said George.

With Kingscliff local Andrew Moloney also on the card, there'll be a big crowd at the Tavern for this one.
